

Events - Roadshows & outside broadcast

Having a live local radio presence at your event is a great way to promote and gain interest from passing members of the public as well as those attending, depending upon the event type. It is unique in that you can reach the public further afield on the day and before through advertising, and garner a captive audience for your event messages throughout the day or night.

To order an outside event, simply go to our website, www.thisisthecat.com and click on events to fill out the online booking form.

Please provide as much information about the event as possible, and allow us up to six weeks notice, which includes two weeks for us to reply and confirm.
